1) 90% MOE is the 90% margin of error of the estimate provided by the American Community Survey. Using the top-ranked tract as an example, if the ACS sample was taken independently 100 different times, we would expect 90 of those surveys to produce bicycle mode share estimates for the central part of the Stanford University Campus between 44.4% and 59.6%. This is 52.0% +/- 7.6%.
